

Drop It: A Coach's Secret To Productivity, Presence and Possibility

Change your life and your organization with this amazing coach's tool called Drop It. Readers explore the truth that you can outrun what runs after you, but you can't outrun what runs inside you. How do you sustain yourself in this ever-demanding global world we live in? How might you be self-sabotaging your success and relationships? This book helps individuals and organizations reflect on what it is costing them in time, money, health, relationships and vital life force to try and control others, not accept the truth of what is, say one thing and do another, carry the past, hold grudges, make excuses, hope that others would change, wish things would be different, blame others, pine for lost opportunities and beat yourself up for not doing everything on your ever-growing to-do list? Whatever it is that drains your energy, holds you hostage to the past, runs over and over in your mind, makes you sick and tired or creates guilt and self-punishment is what you can discover and name for yourself as you read, write and reflect on the truth of what runs you and how you can unlock your will and take action to choose something different. Discover the power of this coach's secret in action when you learn to DROP IT! Experience more productivity, presence and possibility!
